Industry members voiced the need for a high-impact, targeted training program to provide supervisors and other leaders with the tools, knowledge, and confidence to effectively lead others and manage operational functions.

This proven program consists of five, two-day workshops run over eight months, with 6-week intervals between each workshop for participants to apply effective leadership and management principles and techniques learnt in the workshop, back in the workplace. This course will be customised to include your companies' policies, procedures, systems, and practices.

This training is delivered by Transtegic Training (RTO 70217)
